IN THE WORKSHOP.

The block was taken from the Chicago depot at night, and was carried to Mr. Burkhard's barn, No. 949 Clark street, and there deposited. After I got it into the barn, we hung quilts and carpets in side so as to deaden the sound and keep spectators from looking in upon us. A man nound Saley, one of the best saulptors in the country, and who drinks like a man man and Saley, one of the best saulptors in the country, and who drinks like a man nount sat it, part of the menights on the rough of it.

THE GIANT SINISHED.

The giant is 10 feet 4½ inches long, 35 inches across the shoulders, about 22 inches deep and weighs 2,959 pounds. The various marks upon it to indicate the act in of water and time are chiseled out, and it took $90 worth of noids and ink to give it its present color. After the work was done we had a box made ink to give it its present color. After the work was done we had a box made in highly the super super leaves which is fitted, the iron-bound box about which so much has been said.

THE GIANT SIMPED TO ITS DESTINATION. The giant was then shipped from Chicago, but I was west at that time. I twas shipped from Chicago, but I was west at that time. THE GIANT SHIPPED TO ITS DESTINATION.
The giant was then shipped from Chicago, but I was west at that time. It was shipped to Union, Broome county, in this State; and at Union was taken by Israel D. Armsby and John Hall, a brother of George, and carried to Newell's farm in Curliff, takeh from the wagon and had at the side of the barn, where it was covered up with unaw. Next night the pit was dug and the giant put into it, where it remained till the 16th of October.

I had intended criginally to have the giant discovered right in the quarry at Fort Dodge, but this would require too much labor and cost too much. I then thought of taking it out to Smoky Hill, beyond the Misseuri, but the transportation would cost a good deal. Hull having lived in Broome county, having relatives there and knowing the locality, and that it was good place for relice, I followed his advice and shipped it to Broome county.

NEWELL.

Newell knew nothing about if till Hull went up to Binghampton, let him int the secret and offered him a quarter to have the giant buried and discovered on his farm. I was not there when the giant was dug up, and was not to be there until afterwards; then I was to appear and bid for an interest in it, so that others might be induced to bid. Newell was to do the selling. I read the account of the discovery in the Chicago papers and came on immetin.oly. I found the giant in the pit.

A debate in the House of Representa tives last week, on a faint resolution to print and circulate at cost the reports of the Patent Office weekly in place of annu ally, at the sole expense of the Govern ment, presents some very remarkable fact and contrasts. Mr. Jenckes, of Rhode Is land, Chairman of the Committee on Pat ents, stated, for example, that 100,00 American natents had been issued since 1836 That number was reached about a fortnight since. The average of new par ents and improvements for the past year or two is over 13,000 a year, out of about 19,000 applicants per annum. Previous to 1838, when the Bureau was regularly organized unders its present system, but 10,084 patents had been issued since 1790. In England, where a patent can be obtained for anything on paying the fees, under the act of Parliament of 1852, the new devices and improvements have averaged from 2,000 to 4,000 and now rest at about 4,000 a year. Up to the 1832, from the statute of monopolies in the reign of James III. they averaged less than than even patents a year. Of the growth of the American patent system, Mr. Jenoks remarked that there is now home to the inventive capacity of the human mind—least, of all, he might have added to the Yankee mind.

St. Patrick's Day

The 17th of March is looked upon in all parts of the world wherever an Irishis to be found (and where not?) as a national day, when everybody who has a particular regard for the "green isle over the sea" is expected to do all in his Bros. Settled. wer to celebrate it in a manner befitting the occasion. It is not surprising, therefore, that here, where there is a Catholic congregation of fifteen hundred or more the day should be considered as worthy of more than ordinary veneration and respect. The following is the programme sermon by Rev. J. Dunn, of Petroleum Centre.

At 10 :

Music—"Farmer's Mass," with orchestra; atter which the procession will form in front of St. Titus' Church. Grand Marshal and staff; Pioneers; Coleman's Bruss Baud; St. Patrick's Banner: Delegations from Lower Oil Creek and the Oil Regions; Fire Department; Marth and Kerr's Brass Band; Delegations from Upper Oil Creek: Irish American Benevolent Association: Cavalcade.

Evening Celebration—At St. Titus, Church at 7; 2 pm. Lecture by the Rev. J. L. Dowling, of Paris. Subject: "Duties of Irishmen to the Free Country of their adoption, and duties of the U. S. Government towards their adopted citusens." Pollowed by Const.

Green will be the prevailing color to day. The green and gold, the harp and sunburst, the cross and the shamreck will be seen on every side. Other nations colebrate their heroe, and applaud their tatesmen, but Ireland cherishes the memory of her great apostle and her illustrious McFARLAND, SMITH & CO'S. saints. The name of St. Patrick strikes a chord in every Irishman's heart, and throughout all ages his memory will be 10. cherished with feelings of since e affecand the true God was unknown. St. Patrie't, 2" il fue go it st la dships, sufferings and discouring monts, preached the gospel of peace and established the Christhroughout the land. Since then Ireland has been the principal stronghold of the Roman Catholic Church. Under all trials and persecutions, under famine and oppression, her people have tenaciously clung to their religious faith, and throughout all, the matter of Irish Independence has been one of the deathless dreams of patrioti-m. No frishman ever elinquished it or ever will. Fenianism was a humbuy and a fraud, but while it existed as a national organization, whereever you heard the brogue you found a art roady to die for the idea that "the oald sed" must be governed by Irishmen. To put the green above the red, the harp and shanrock in triumph over the Cross of St. George, is the first aspiration of Irish youth, and the list hope of Irish age. It

Since writing my last crude oil has risen from $1.35 to $1.75 per barrel, with the prospect of a still further advance. Business here is brisk and many of the old wells are doing very well, in fact the production for the last eight days has amounted to some 5,000 barrels, against 3,000 to 4,000 of the week before. A number of refiners came were to make purchaseed last week, but could not get supplied at their prices. Some 2,000 barrels changed hands at from $1.30 to $1.03 1.2 per barrel at the wells, and is now held firmly at $1.75. Capt. Mosdow has just finished cleaning out the well near the old Hillsdale No. 1, and she now pumps fitteen barrels per day. 'The report of the, groat championship rame of billiards detween A. P. Radolpha in Chicago, and John Deery, of this city, was correctly forwarded on yesterday.

The match took place at Mechanics' Proycoming Mutual, of Pa. J. B. BROWN, OLL CITY..AR Oil in Store and in Transit Taken at Equitable Rati Chapin & Lardner 10 & 12, Pine St., was correctly forwarded on yesterday. The match took place at Mechanics Privition, on Stockton street, and was witnessed by nearly, 1,000 peopless largenum bor of ladies constituting a portion of the audience. For the past few days the betting had been strongly against the Chicagon, in consequence of the juniformly poor play exhibited in file practice and exhibition games. His playing on those of casions was so poor that his defeatives, looked upon as a forgone conclusion, although a few of the wiser ones expressed the opinion that those who were botting against the Frenchman might find themselves badly trapped. Betting ranged from $100 to $50 to $100 to $25 gains; the Chicago representative. Rudolphe himself took several of these proffers. Messrs. G. F. Parker and John Trier were chosen referees, and J. Vandwindf was selected umpire, after which the players strong for the lead, which was won by Deery, who played in the left hand corner. Rudolphe only, made 6 on his play, but asseeded in obtaining a run of 116 on his Mird linning.
